I'm a British Free Software activist, about to start working for the Free Software Foundation Europe (FSFE) in Berlin.

I'm currently visiting Dalmatia on holiday, and will be staying in Split until Wednesday 30th June.

I'm interested to speak to Free Software users / enthusiasts here in Croatia, and maybe share some good ideas about advocating and promoting its use.

It would be good to meet anybody in the Croatian Linux User group over the next few days.
Unfortunately I don't speak Croatian

If anyone is interested in having a talk with me, let me know - best to send me a text message at 00 44 78680 77871 in case I don't have an internet connection in my apartment.

See you soon,

Sam.
